

In the top diagram without an applied electric field, water particles don't align and stick together, whereas in the bottom diagram with an applied electric field, water particles form a string of connected pearls.

HYPER ENERGY BEYOND

Hyper Energy Therapy is a novel treatment where therapists use their bare hands to "harmonize the bioelectric current." The "bioelectric current" is the vital energy of all cellular tissues, a subtle force generated when nerves approach cells at the cellular level. It orchestrates the functioning of the brain, heart, blood, lymph flow, and nerves, playing an indispensable role in human life. However, in modern society, various factors easily disrupt the bioelectric current, eventually manifesting as various bodily discomforts. Adjusting the weakened bioelectric current within the body, Hyper Energy Therapy supports the innate self-healing abilities of humans, promoting cellular adjustment, recovery, and improvement.

The most notable feature of Hyper Energy Therapy is that therapists experience a weak electric current, contributing to their own health and beauty enhancement. Both the therapist and the client flourish in health and beauty, aligning energy through the adept use of mind, skill, and aesthetics.

The evolution of HYPER ENERGY BEYOND is attributed to two proprietary developments known as HYPER ENERGY Waves:

- A unique current and frequency control influencing the bioelectric current related to the body's physiological functions.
- A unique current and long-wave frequency control influencing the body's water molecules.

Human bodies vary in bioimpedance (resistance) based on factors such as body size, fat, and water content. HYPER ENERGY BEYOND synchronizes the impedance of the client and therapist, adjusting current values and frequencies to provide an optimal treatment experience that both the therapist and the client can feel and share.

Bioelectric currents and body water molecules (electrolytes, ions) are closely related. Balancing these two elements helps maintain health and beauty in the body and mind. The human body and cells contain positive and negative ions, and an imbalance disrupts the bioelectric current. Causes include stress, fatigue, lack of sleep, poor dietary habits, electromagnetic waves, and aging. As a result, various bodily discomforts may occur. HYPER ENERGY Wave, which harmonizes the bioelectric current, stimulates muscles, aligns the bioelectric current, and activates the autonomic nervous system.

Approximately 60% of the human body is composed of fluids in adulthood: intracellular and extracellular fluid (60%), interstitial fluid (15%), and blood plasma (4%), among other ratios. The fluid adjustment technology of HYPER ENERGY Wave uses long waves to vibrate water, reducing water clusters to micron sizes, enhancing fluid conductivity and dissolution rates, and activating ionization. Additionally, it separates reactive oxygen species in the plasma of thickened blood, promotes normal hydrogen bonding, and ensures smooth blood circulation.

Hyper Energy has secured patents for both machinery and technology, providing a reassuring, safe, and reliable approach. 90% of those who experience it become repeat clients. The Hyper Energy features numerous effects from health to beauty, allowing clients to tangibly feel the benefits.

